Anche quest'anno il meeting è risultato perfetto e questo grazie alla maestria organizzativa dell'amico Marco Bonavoglia a cui vanno i nostri più sinceri ringraziamenti. Ancora una volta grazie mille, Marco!

Ho preparato questo bollettino per avere tutte le informazioni comodamente in un unico file ed anche per avere, concedetemi l'enfasi, una memoria storica dell'evento; ad ogni modo tutte le informazioni su questo o futuri meeting possono essere reperite sul sito web tenuto da Marco (<http://www.eteroscacco.it/esp/index.html>). Inoltre voglio ringraziare Julia Vysotska che ha voluto gentilmente pubblicizzare il nostro meeting su suo magnifico sito (<http://juliasfairies.com>).

Come al solito i partecipanti sono stati piuttosto impegnati e l'atmosfera come sempre è stata molto amichevole; le varie attività (soluzioni, letture, composizione) sono state molto intense ed apprezzate da tutti, come si può vedere consultando le pagine di questo bollettino; ad ogni modo, tutte le attività verranno molto meglio descritte dal report di Marco Bonavoglia.

Vi aspettiamo a Milano il prossimo anno!

This year too the meeting was successful thanks to the organising skill of my friend Marco Bonavoglia to whom our sincerest thanks go. Marco, once again thank you so much!

I prepared this bulletin in order to have comfortably all the informations into an unique file and, let me give some emphasis, in order to have historical memory of this event. Anyway all the necessary informations about this or future meetings can be found at .http://www.eteroscacco.it/esp/index.html run by Marco, Furthemore I would like to thank Julia Vysotska for kindly advertising our meeting on your excellent web site (<http://juliasfairies.com>).

As in the prevoius meetings, the participants were quite busy and the athmosphere was very friendly as ever; many chess problem activities (solving, mini-lectures, composing) were highly appreciated as you can see by browsing this bulletin. Anyway, Marco Bonavoglia's report explains much better all the activities in the preface page. We look forward to seeing you in Milan next year!

Quinto raduno di Sant' Ambrogio, ospitati come sempre dall'hotel Admiral (<http://www.admiralhotel.it/>) e una partecipazione leggermente inferiore all'anno passato, una quindicina in tutto con ospiti stranieri Michel Caillaud e Uri Avner. Alla prima presenza al raduno Marcello Ragonesi e Romano Bellucci.

Come l'anno scorso abbiamo due tornei di composizione lunga e un quick organizzato e giudicato da Mario Parrinello. Gli altri due giudici sono Antonio Garofalo e Chris Feather che ringrazio per l'aiuto!

Si comincia a comporre giovedì sera e venerdì pomeriggio (Sant' Ambrogio) c'è il campionato italiano di soluzione anticipato di un giorno per permettere ai giocatori impegnati nel Crespi di partecipare (peraltro senza molto successo).

Nessuna sorpresa nel Campionato di Soluzione vinto ancora una volta da Michel Caillaud, incredibile il tempo utilizzato (venticinque minuti su novanta!!), ma Michel non fa il solito en-plein dei punti, manca un punto e rischia fino all'ultimo che qualcun altro lo superi. L'aiutomatto in tre risulta però troppo difficile per tutti gli altri e alla fine il risultato vede Michel avanti a Uri Avner e a Mario Parrinello che ottiene il titolo di Campione Italiano. Durante la premiazione a Mario viene consegnato il diploma ufficiale di Grande Maestro della Composizione, il primo nella storia del problemismo italiano!

Venerdì sera, come detto si compone di nuovo, sabato al mattino c'è ancora tempo per i due tornei lunghi e al pomeriggio Francesco Simoni decide di organizzare un torneo di composizione a sorpresa! che tiene occupati i compositori a cottimo...

Domenica premiazioni delle tre gare di composizione, nel due mosse ortodosso vittoria dall'estero con primo premio per una composizione congiunta di Menachem Witztum e Emanuel Navon, nel torneo eterodosso trionfo di Mario Parrinello che ottiene primo secondo e terzo premio!!, mentre il Quick è vinto da Michel Caillaud.

E come sempre appuntamento all'anno prossimo!

Marco Bonavoglia

-Miniconferenza di Francesco Simoni:

Francesco Simoni ha illustrato un'idea che è poi stata oggetto di un torneo di composizione veloce ("Surprise" ty).

La definizione è la seguente: un pezzo bianco interferisce due pezzi bianchi ma nel corso del gioco il Nero può sfruttare solamente una di tali interferenze.

Mi ha fatto piacere, per una volta, non giudicare helpmates. Naturalmente il tema era ampiamente sfruttato e i concorrenti hanno scherzato su questo. Altrettanto ovviamente i lavori sono tutti anticipati, ma non importa. Nessuno reclamerà, presumo. Ho trovato uno spunto originale, credo, nel problema a cui ho assegnato il 2° premio. Complimenti agli autori per lo sforzo immane fatto per accontentare un giudice bizzoso. Sulla base di giustificati reclami ho deciso per questi cambiamenti nella classifica.

Sant' Ambrogio Quick Tourney for helpmates with contrahoppers

Judge: Chris.J.Feather

For this quick tourney Marco Bonavoglia sent me 21 anonymous problems in a very convenient uniform presentation. I am writing this award less than a day later. Therefore I apologise in advance for any errors resulting from the necessary haste in combination with my ever-slowng brain functions. Despite those two negative factors the task of judging was, as last year, a most enjoyable one.

The choice of contrahoppers was made so as to minimise anticipation searches in view of the short time available. My thanks once again to Geoff Foster for providing useful information in this respect. Only two problems used the contrarookhopper and contrabishopper. Because of Popeye's failure to include these pieces, the rule in this tourney was that it was acceptable to use the contragrasshopper even where a contrarookhopper or contrabishopper would be sufficient and that no problem would be downgraded for that reason. Where the contrarookhopper and/or contrabishopper could have been used in problems featuring in this award I have presented both the composer's version and an alternative using the lesser pieces; I want to make it clear that in these cases the award goes to whichever of these diagrammed settings the composer now prefers.

The overall quality of the tourney was good, especially in view of the composing time constraint, though perhaps not quite as good as in last year's gnu tourney. It is true that hoppers are harder to work with than leapers, so that is not surprising. A few problems omitted from the award nevertheless deserve a mention: The ideas of A (Ke8/Ke5) and especially U (Kd5/Kc3) deserved better settings, which will have been hard to achieve in the time allowed. I decided to give the composers of these problems a chance to perfect their interesting conceptions, which should then stand a good chance of distinction in another tourney. Problem D (Ke7/Ke5) should be presented with a rookhopper on f5 and a bishopper on d5, since contrahoppers are not needed there; in that form this problem is eminently publishable. Problem G (Kh5/Kb3) is superficially attractive but there is no black/white interplay and the idea can be set without twinning. Perhaps here too the composer can introduce some improvement?

And now the award. For greater clarity I have given all the contrahopper moves in full algebraic notation.

Although it is a pity that the cookstoppers on the left-hand side of the board are needed, the construction appears faultless. This is the most impressive thematic combination in the tourney.

The second and third prizes are both rather short on interplay, but their use of pinmates is a strongly positive factor. Indeed I had hoped for more pinning play in the tourney, since contrahoppers offer very interesting possibilities in this respect. In this case the simple pins of the pieces standing next to the black king are ideally complemented by the potential checks which prevent the retraction of black's second moves - a characteristic hopper effect. This problem is perfect in its light setting and in the elegance of its diagonal/orthogonal correspondence: just the thing to attract adherents of the orthodox helpmate into the more exciting field of fairy problems!

This problem cleverly exploits the contragrasshopper's ability to perform a triangular round trip, and combines it with pinmates. The twinning is thematic and the construction generally good, although one black pawn on b4 could replace the present b- and c-pawns. The idea is harder to show than the composer has made it appear; he was right to go for the maximum size of triangle, even though it also maximises the danger of cooks from closer range. The contrahopping, and indeed most of the thematic interest, is restricted to the white play, but that is natural enough in this theme; in this connection the choice of length is the best one. A most enjoyable work.

Line-movement away from the black king is a familiar motif with various hoppers, but it is here set very neatly and its visual attractiveness is enhanced by the tempo element for Black. The contrarookhopper and contrabishopper here were the composer's own choices; he tested with WinChloe. This is the only problem in the tourney in which all the moves are made by contrahoppers!

The battery idea is ingenious and makes good use of the material, excepting the useless white king. However it would be much better if twinning could have been avoided, especially since it involves movement of the thematic piece. Also, Black's second moves are rather weak: the capture of the Se5 may be surprising, but it is not matched in the other phase.

This is the longest problem in the tourney. Its idea is not strongly contrahopperish (there are many K-moves!) and inevitably there is unused black material in each line, but it makes its point simply and clearly: a commendable achievement at this length when composing time is short.

Quick tourney award for hs#2-3 with PWC

Judge: M.Parrinello

The set theme was: "Help-Self-mate in 2 or 3 moves (hs#2-3) with PlatzWechselCirce condition (PWC). At least two phases are required (set-play, twins, multisolutions) but Zeropositions or duplex are not allowed. No fairy pieces or other conditions are permitted".

I received 6 problems (and two versions) of good quality; I appreciated problems showing intensive use of the PWC condition.

Some remarks on not placed problems: Agostini: the PWC condition has not been interestingly exploited; Rallo: the wBa7 can be removed.

Another excellent strategy with nice exchange of function between the thematic white pieces and very spectacular and specific PWC mates.

 B) 1.Qa6 Bxc5 [+wRg6] 2.Rg8 +

Creation of different black batteries from pinned white pieces in both phases; the pin mates emphasize the fairy strategy and the exchange of function of black and white pieces.

3.Qd2 + Bf4 #

1.Qh3 Qd3 2.Qxd3 [+bQh3] Rh7

3.Qa6 + Bd6 #

This is the only problem in three moves in the tourney. The strategy is based on creation of black batteries which depends on two different squares occupied by the wQ and on the interchange of functions between the thematic black pieces (active sacrifice/rebirth and selfblocks).

Judge: F.Simoni

I decided on Saturday afternoon to propose a theme for the enjoying of congress participants. I received 2 problems which level is good and I propose the following ranking.

Theme: Problems in two moves of any kind are required, where a white piece interferes two white ones, but black can exploit only one of such interferences. Every type of fairy is allowed. Twins are allowed, but Zeroposition isn't.

ContraGrasshopper h2, c5

1.CGf5 Kg6 2.CGd7 + Te4 #

1.CGf5 Kf6 2.CGd7 + Tf4 #

Reciprocal form and dual avoidance are very well performed in this original and very nice problem, which uses the fairy Contra grasshopper to realize the required strategy.

The HS stipulation may feel not strictly necessary to the idea, since Ba5 and Rab4 don't play in the thematic mechanism, but the final battery mates are well integrated with the scheme.

A pleasant and economical setting of the theme, with white promotion, but unfortunately in only a solution.
